

CEM Completes Acquisition Transition of Intavis Bioanalytical Instruments Assets

(Matthews, North Carolina) May 6th, 2020 – CEM Corporation is pleased to announce that it now has assumed global sales, service, and support responsibility for the former instrumentation line of Intavis Bioanalytical Instruments AG. This marks the next step in the transition period of the previously announced purchase of the assets of Intavis Bioanalytical Instruments AG. CEM is now directly offering the following updated products:

Peptide Synthesis

MultiPep 1 (formerly ResPep SLi)

MultiPep 2 (formerly MultiPep RSi)

CleavagePro

Slide Spotting Robot

Protein Digestion

DigestPro (formerly DigestPro MSi)

In situ Hybridization & Immunohistochemistry

InsituPro (formerly InsituPro VSi)

Existing customers of Intavis Bioanalytical Instruments can also now receive support from CEM and its worldwide distributor network.

About CEM

CEM Corporation is a global, privately held technology company, based in Matthews, North Carolina. CEM designs, manufactures and distributes products for use in life sciences, analytical laboratories and processing plants worldwide. CEM operates foreign subsidiaries in the United Kingdom, Ireland, Germany, Italy, France, and Japan and has a global network of over fifty third-party distributors.

For more information, contact CEM Corporation:

Michael Karney
Life Science Product Manager
michael.karney@cem.com